WILL BREAK A COLD FEVER AND QUICKER THAN

THE INVINCIBLE "ROCKACHAWS," S. S. C. '21 FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

HERE THEY ARE—WITH THEIR COACH—THE PRIDE OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON.

"Laid away is the pigskin, And the Rock-a-Chaw rooters, Have transferred their allegiance To the Basketball shooters." —B. M.

But while we lay the 1921 pigskin away we cannot lose sight of the record of the 1921 Rock-a-Chaws. It is safe to say that no greater team ever represented the College on the football field. King Football's reign is over for the time. Let's take a last look at the men; his short reign a glorious one.

THE LINE.

No. 1. JAMES BRITTINGHAM—Center. At last Britt came through with the goods. No man on the team deserved his berth more than Britt. Two years, tiresome waiting on the scrubs, knocked around and bowled over in every scrimmage, Britt stuck through it. More glory to him for having showed the grit to stick. At the difficult position with most of the passes direct, not through the quarterback as formerly Britt was consistent. His defense work was notable.

No. 2. WALTER REED—Right Guard. The smallest man on the team, but as big an element as any on the defense. Reed tackled and got his man where all others had failed. Time after time he broke thru the line and stopped plays before they were well started. The backfield knew that a play on his side would always find a yawning hole. His playing would have graced any team.

No. 3. SAM CERNIGLIA—Right Tackle. Anybody who saw the games knows what Sam did. When he could not get one man only, he got two and sometimes three. Opposing backfields found that passing and punting could be executed solely on the condition that it was done before Sam broke thru. The line that could hold him has not come this season and we played some mighty fine lines.

No. 4. KENNETH WALSH—Left Guard. Welsh started the season at Center but shifted to Guard after the Boys' High game. At guard he played the same consistent game that made his letter for him last season. His weight counted for a lot and did not hinder his speed at all. Equally good on the defense or the offense, "Patty" will make a valuable man again next season.

No. 5. GUY CAIRE—Left Tackle. "Fish" started out on the second squad but his work showed at once that he was fit and ready for faster company. For a first year man he did splendid work in every game he played. Great things are expected of him next season when the whistle blows for kick-off.

No. 6. GEORGE SCHLOEGEL—Tackle. Arrived too late to start the season. Played a splendid game at Half in a few of the games but did his best work in the final game of the season on the line at tackle. When Schloegel tackled, his opponent ent generally found it out from the doctor. He did good work also at the receiving and of the aerial route.

No. 7. BILL WEILBACHER—Guard. Bill was also a late comer but played great ball till he was hurt and had to watch the games from the bench. His best asset was shiftiness and ability to go from one side of the line to the other as the occasion demanded.

No. 8. RENEIRO ESCALONA—End. Escalona did his great work in the second game on the schedule when he pulled a forward pass down in the last few minutes of the last quarter of the Audubon game and tallied our lone touchdown for the day. Injuries kept him out of the daylight in the last few games.

No. 9. ANTHONY SCHIRO—Left End. Tony spent his scrub years learning to catch forward passes. His time was well spent. He covered himself with glory during the Mississippi Normal game, when he completed four or five long passes and went through for touchdowns. Splendid work on the defense kept end runs away from this territory. He played in every game of the schedule.

No. 10. ANTHONY SCAFIDE—Right End. Scaf's work at end was good all through the season. A good receiver of forward passes, he was particularly strong on defense. His hard and low tackles caused more than one fumble. His longest suit was the breaking up of forward passes, very few of which were completed by the opponents near his territory.

BACKFIELD MEN.

No. 11. JAMES KEIFFER—Quarter Back. Keiffer, new at his position played a fine game both on offense and defense. He had not a full opportunity to try himself out as a field general in the hard games as he was hurt in the third game of the schedule.

No. 12. HAROLD JORDY—Half Back. For his first year and the small opportunity he had to get into the games, he did remarkably well. In the Pensacola Navy he showed that we have a dependable line-plunger for next season.

No. 13. WALTER GEX—Half Back. Walter took part in every game on the schedule. He made the first touchdown of the season and was still scoring in the last game. The lightest man on the team he was called on time after time to pierce the heavy opponent's line, and answered the call with a gain. Splendid work on the defense coupled with good catching of forward passes made him of great value.

No. 14. LIX FRUGE—Right Half Back. Never touched a football till this season. Started well, improved well with every game and ended the season in a burst of glory. His remarkable speed brought many a gain via the ends. In the last two games on the schedule he showed as fine line-bucking as has ever been seen here. Five touchdowns in the Jefferson game is a part of his record that speaks for itself. Men tackling him when he was going at full speed were usually carried off the field.

No. 15. CYRIL GLOVER—Quarter Back. As field captain, Cyril showed splendid football knowledge and will applied. A line-bucker of no mean ability himself, he was always willing to call someone else to take the ball over when it was worked near enough to strike for goal. His speed, elusiveness and quick sizing up of the opponents' play was a big factor in our victories.

No. 16. MARIUS JAUBERT—Full Back and Captain. The most versatile man on the squad. Jaubert played at center, tackle, guard and in the backfield. His great passing was the deciding factor in the Audubon game and gave the heavy scoring in most of the other games. A punter of unusual coolness, he was never blocked on his punt once during the season. He featured the last game with sixty-yard run after a recovery of a fumble.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST.

FORSTER COMMAGERE—Coach. In presenting the palm to the 1921 Rock-a-Chaws of S. S. C., we would be remiss in our duty and derelict in giving honor and praise to whom honor and praise are due were we to omit the name of the S. S. C. coach. Like all hard and successful workers he is modest, and to flatter his work would be an affront; but we do wish to voice an appreciation of one who has worked hard, unceasingly and helped to bring about an aggregation of football players who have by their season's work well earned the title of star players. Each and every collegian on the team as a result of Coach Commager's training has shown some special prowess and skill, and in all this has resulted in the unusual success of the season on the gridiron just ended. In complimenting the members of the team individually and collectively on their success, we must congratulate Coach Commager as well. He loves not only his work but he holds every boy dear in his affections and they in turn are exceedingly fond of him. The spirit of harmony and co-operation existing between coach and collegian is a tie that binds closely and therein lies largely one of the secrets of success.

Mr. Commager has been with the St. Stanislaus College for several terms and his work has always been of very high order. He has had flattering offers from other institutions anxious to gain the prestige that his services as Coach would give, but he has turned down all of these and rather remain in Bay St. Louis. He is exceedingly popular with both faculty and collegians, and not alone within the confines of S. S. C. but he is popularly known on the outside and highly esteemed by those who know him best.

Better Printing is our slogan. Mr. Business Man, yours ought to be More Printing. It is a wonderful tonic for business. The Echo.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. NANCY HALL.

To the Pastor, visiting Ministers, Family, Members and Friends of this, our dear one in the person of Sister Nancy Hall.

We have come to pay our tribute and last loving respects to her whom was loved and honored by everyone.

This is such a sad occasion, and yet we are met with it almost every day. We have gathered around this our dear one who departed this life on Tuesday morning, November 15, 1921, to say a few words of love and comfort to those who are left to mourn her loss. All that we can say or do, cannot bring her back to us again, for our Heavenly Father wanted her home, and had been calling her for sometime, but she just heard His welcome voice on yesterday morning. She has gone, never to return to us again, but she has left a host of loved ones, and dear friends to mourn her loss, but Heaven's gain.

Sister Nancy Hall, better known to this entire community as Grandmother, lived a long and useful life. What a loving name is Grandmother! And she has borne that sweet name for a number of years. For somewhere and sometime in January, in the year 1819 in Wilmington North Carolina, she was born, and she traveled the path of life with never a complaint, but words of loving advice to those who knew her. She was the mother of thirteen (13) children and up to yesterday morning had survived all but four, who are left to remember what a dear mother she was. She had thirty-five grandchildren, and twenty of these are living today. She was the great-grandmother of thirty-two children, and leaves twenty-three of these children living today to look upon her dear lifeless form and mourn her departure. What a host to leave behind! Her entire generation was 83. She was, indeed, a wonderful woman! She was 102 years old this past January which proves to us that the Heavenly Father was her guide, and the Saviour was her constant companion. She was a true Christian, having been known to walk to and from church, a distance of about 5 miles, this she was known to do twice a day, in order to hear the word of God. Even when she was failing in strength, just about a year ago, she was known to walk to revival service, and was among those who loved the Lord. She walked with the aid of her cane, but the Angels of Heaven guided her trembling feet along. And now we are left to remember what a noble woman God gave to this world! She was a true Christian, a devoted mother and a sweet advising grandmother. What a beautiful life was hers! But alas! the Father has called her home, and she has gone to that beautiful city, where the Saviour awaits her coming. Beautiful white-robed angels will meet her at the portals of glory and she will hear the Father's welcome voice saying, "Come unto me and rest from your labor." And as she goes sweeping away through the beautiful gates she will inquire, "Is not this the Land of Beulah?"

Blessed land of light! She is at rest and we say to her loved ones, who mourn her loss, lean upon the arms of Jesus, and he will help you bear the grief. Heaven wanted her, the Father called her, and angels beckoned her and she has answered. Sleep on dear mother; rest on dear grandmother, we will meet again some bright day on the banks of the beautiful river, there all tears and sorrows are not known and we shall meet no part no more!

RISHTON-MARTI.
There was a quiet little wedding celebrated on November 30th. Miss Nellie Daugherty Marti, accomplished and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Marti, one of the oldest and respected residents of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Mr. Charles Basil Rishton, son of Mr. Thos. Rishton, also of this city. The ceremony was performed at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, followed afterwards by a reception at the home of the bride's mother. Only members of the immediate families were present. Although the ceremony was quietly celebrated Dr. William Cain, the County Veterinarian, with his always ready wit was on the scene at the station at the departure of the train to take the happy couple away. It is needless to say, he did not forget the rice and also introduction to the fellow-passengers that newly-weds were on board, to assure them of entertainment for the journey.
Mrs. Walter Martin, of Mobile, sister of the bride, acted as charming hostess in place of her mother, whose recent illness prevented her from doing the honors.
Mr. Rishton took his bride to their beautiful home he has recently erected in New Orleans, where they will reside in the future.

RUSSELL WANTS MORE PIE.

Governor Russell states that he will recommend to the legislature at its next session a law providing for the inspection of fuel and lubricating oils and a tax of one or two cents a gallon on same "to be applied towards the establishment and maintenance of good roads."

The proposed tax, if adopted by the legislature, may be ostensibly applied in that direction, but it will never reach its destination.

The Governor's plan of inspection has as his sole object, the creation of a large number of useless jobs for his political supporters. In other words, Governor Russell wants some political pie for disposal. He figures on strengthening his political machine by naming at least one gasoline and oil inspector, probably more in each county.

Mighty little of the gasoline and oil tax suggested by the Governor will ever reach the roads. It will be consumed in paying fat salaries to these political henchmen.

We do not believe the law makers will be in a mood when they meet here in January, to furnish the Governor with this delectable dish of patronage. Certainly, there is no demand among the people of the State for the creation of new jobs. The present pay roll is just about all the people are willing to stand.—Jackson News.

FILLING A GREAT NEED.

"Do I believe in the weekly paper?" asks Prof. Osmond Hooper, of the Ohio State University. And then he answered in words we want every reader in Bay St. Louis to reflect upon. He said:

"There is no agency so necessary to community progress as the weekly or semi-weekly newspaper. It is to the community what the locomotive is to the train. If the locomotive moves, the train moves, if it is stationary, so is the train. Similarly, a wide-awake, progressive newspaper makes a wide-awake, progressive community; and any reasonable program of achievement that it sets and wisely works for, in the interest of the people, can be realized. But the newspaper cannot achieve single-handed. It must have help, unstinted help of all the good people of the community. It can have no steam if there is no fire, and there can be no fire without fuel. It needs the fuel of subscriptions."

"Every subscription helps to make the circulation, and circulation makes advertising a business instead of a charity. Both together make prosperity, and prosperity gives the power to push and pull for the best things in community life. If there is a weak community paper anywhere it is the fault of the persons who ought to take it, but don't. Everybody with town or country pride, everybody who believes in neighborliness, ought to be a subscription agent, as well as a subscriber, for the local paper. That is the way out of town and community stagnation."

Give the local papers support and it will give the community the things

COLUMN DE BULL.

By Fuller Bull.

Indeed, fair Prunella, we're up agin it! All our rip-rarin and snortin down the side-lines without regard for friends' corns or feelings....Gone, Prunella, gone where the woodbine twineth and the barbershop groaneth under its burden of lilacs. We now settle down on our weak dignity (whats there's left of it) and get a red ticket to the Goal-Shooters festival, which goes by poundage, and wherein you sedately take your seat against the wall where you can ward off the bouncin pig-bide and keep your globes on Fatty's score board, and your heart from bouncin and getting dislodged. We get close over by V. Frexy where we can use his smile for a tonic in case of acute palpitation—and there we hibernate for the said winter.

But, say fellas, doggonit, would not we just like to force them H's to play us ONE more game before frost? Have we got to nurse this infected sore spot all thru the North winds and all thru the next jumpin thermom before we can even look for salve? There's old Poplarville, up state, grinnin down at us and considerin herself the savior of Mississipp. Why can't we bone them H's to play us for the great Doll & Toy fund? They can't back off that propish if they did they'd lose their meal ticket, with the Crescent burgers. How about it Dr. Foster? Not only from a point of gettin' even, but don't you know that kind of propish would boost the Rock-a-Chaws, and then SOME, and it would draw like honey to ants too. Of course, we understand that the Good Book said that "Revenge is Mine" but, tell me, Prunella, did any gink think of Football in them days. Unh, unh! Tryin' is half the game—let's go!

These days there's a whole lot of guff goin the rounds about what the Ellen N. is going to do to our sad lil burg. One bird tells us that there's been a survey or several made and it has been decided to move the whole darn works over a spasm or two to the north and across the Bay where she looks the shortest, and then choose a site for the depot where it aint; another problematical prophesier has the road running thru Bayou Gallere with no depot at all and no town like our on her map. Then the Asst. Cashier of a bank says that is all rot for he has an agreement with the road to let all the old bridge stand AS IS so he can continue work with the rod and reel AS WAS—all rumor to the contrary notwithstanding. "Boil down, Prunella, there's a lot what don't know, and the chances are they'll find themselves a 100 ft. out in the surf where the hammers ring.

We have been informed that Louie Benceen journeyed over to the Big city on Thur. to meet his old friend, the Gen. Diaz, and invite his nibs to give our burg the once-over. Of course it stands pat that Louie wants to show the old warrior that he can make spaghetti a yard longer and better than any other port. We mitt Louie's pub-spirited cit-ship! Nobody takes Louie seriously; that's just the way they treated Ben Franklin and lots of other great minds. We know he'll put us on the map if he can—spaghetically speaking.

We've got some cruel, heartless folks round these diggins, and they say some fierce things about their friends. The other day a very nice, mild old gentleman—one of the Blue Rose variety—went fishing up some old rotten bayou and caught a beault of a Bass (that's the book name for Gr. Trout); he had the aforesaid Beault, on exhibit, on Main St., and we hefted it and offered our congrats; but we hear that some of these cruel people are circulating the report that this old gent actually made the said G. T. swallow a pound of shot. We don't really believe it's true, do you?

On account of the decrease in population of the state, we hear that most of the folks upstate are thinkin of movin down to the Coast on acct. of it bein a good place to raise the youngsters—on acct. sea-breezes.

ABUSE OF PARDONING POWER.

"If there was ever a time when the people of Mississippi should speak out against the abuse of the pardoning power, that time is now," declared Judge W. A. Roane, in addressing the North Alabama Conference at Amory.

The declaration of the veteran jurist was liberally applauded by members of the clergy and laity, and it reached the proportions of an ovation when Judge Roane denounced the "petty politics being played in high places, to the dishonor of law and order."

Judge Roane knows whereof he speaks in denouncing the abuse of the pardoning power in the State of Mississippi. Time after time he has seen rehandled murders and other criminals convicted in the courts over which he presided turned loose very shortly afterwards by the State Board of Pardons, all because the criminal happened to have enough money to hire a lawyer who enjoys the political friendship of the pardon blunderbuss.

That the legislature is going to have something to say on this subject at its January session can hardly be doubted and if our lawmakers will take the trouble to make a rigid investigation of certain acts of the State Board of Pardons, some highly interesting disclosures will follow.

West one-half of Lot numbered Ninety (90) Second Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, aforesaid County and State, said West one-half of Lot 90, Second Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, having a frontage of fifty (50) feet on the South side of St. John street, and running back, between parallel lines fifty feet apart on a course South twenty degrees West, one hundred and twenty-five (125) to the line dividing this lot from land now or formerly of Thos. W. Kingston; and bounded on the East by land now or formerly of estate of John Munch or the East one-half of Lot 90, aforesaid; and on the West by land, now or formerly of John V. Toume; and said above described land is part of the same land conveyed to John A. Munch by John V. Toume, by deed dated 27th day of April, A. D., 1897, and recorded in Book 'U, Pages 285-286 of the Records of Deeds of said County.

Given under my hand this 5th day of November, 1921.

In more than 150 big daily newspapers, having a combined circulation of approximately 4 million readers—

By handsome eight-color lithographed signs and hangers displayed in stations, hotels and show windows—

By beautifully illustrated booklets, folders and inserts distributed by all passenger representatives—

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad is telling the people in colder climates of the attractions of the glorious Gulf Coast section—between Mobile and New Orleans.

Such co-operation should materially encourage the building plan now being discussed, to the end that future seasons may find adequate accommodations at "America's Winter Playground."

CITY ECHOES.

—The Echo has been requested to announce that the Parent-Teachers Association will meet at the Central School next Friday afternoon, December 9th, at 3 o'clock. You are respectfully urged to be present.

—Mrs. Juanita Hicks, of Richmond, Va., is spending a while visiting Bay St. Louis friends, and is also visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. Telhard, in Ullman avenue.

—Mrs. H. R. Mattox left last Friday night for Atlanta, Ga., where she will spend a while visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Clinton Reid, and family. Mrs. Mattox recently returned from a seven-month stay in Los Angeles, Calif.

—Mr. W. A. Cuevas, of Gulfport and Pass Christian, was a business visitor to Bay St. Louis several times during the week. Mr. Cuevas recently took over the Buick auto agency for the Gulf Coast, including six counties, forming an extensive territory and valuable agency.

—Cashier Leo W. Seal, of the Hancock County Bank, who has been spending awhile in the East in the interest of the institution he represents, is expected to arrive home from New York City tomorrow. Tidings from Mr. Seal are to the effect that he has been having a busy time and a successful trip.

—County Tax Collector, E. Van Whitfield and his assistant, J. V. Bontemps, are receiving for poll and road taxes, but not until the county levy will have been made by the county board, awaiting the return of the books from Jackson, will the tax-payer be able to pay other taxes. However, the City Tax Collector Ferdinand H. Egloff is receiving for all city taxes.

—Mrs. G. Y. Blaise, manager local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, was taken to the Kings Daughters' Hospital, Gulfport, during the week, suffering from a former complaint, but is reported better and on the high road to recovery. Mrs. Blaise is one of the most successful managers in the Western —The A. & G. Theatre struck another popular cord Wednesday night when the management gave a second presentation of the six-reel comedy-drama, "The Kid," featuring the irrepressible and invincible Charlie Chaplin. An audience that packed the building to utmost capacity was the result, and everyone left the building that night in a happy mood and buoyant frame of mind. "He is a benefactor" who makes others happy, some one has well said.

—There will be a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors held on Monday, next, at the courthouse. The sale of the contract for the building of a new ferry pier in the business section of Bay St. Louis will be cried out to the best and lowest bidder. If the assessment rolls are returned in time from the State Tax Commission at Jackson, the Board will also fix the tax levy for 1922. As a reduction is expected in the tax levy an anxious public is waiting to be informed.

—It is interesting to learn that the Bay-Waveland Yacht and Athletic Club organization has prospered to the extent that it is only now a matter of time before the club will be occupying its own home. President Leonard and the other officials are exceedingly gratified at the success which is crowning their effort of the club to get into going shape at the earliest moment possible. Committee members, an attorney have concluded negotiations and are closing the final details of transfer for beach property which the club is buying, details of which will be given in these columns after the transfer will have taken place. There was a meeting of the board of directors of the Club Monday night, and the report is that the club will soon be a "going concern." Monies for stock and dues are coming in at a rate that is encouraging.

—Although Florida and along the Pacific coast and other parts of the country where the tourist travels, auto camps on the outskirts and on the inside of city limits are established for the free use of tourists traveling by auto. The argument is that it put a community on the map, tourists head for localities where these public camps exist and remain a few days, spending money in replenishing their provisions and other supplies. The establishment of these camps cost little or nothing and mean much. Bay St. Louis will soon have to get in line.

—For the first time this season, the Peerless Products Company blew the whistle of its big plant in this city Tuesday morning, calling labor to work. The work of canning oysters for the season has commenced in earnest, and it is a good sign and means much to Bay St. Louis when the siren whistle of the Peerless gets into action. The Peerless Products Company succeeds the Peerless Oyster Company, Messrs. Torsch Bros., of Baltimore, Md., having sold their interest to a local stock company which Mr. George C. Firsching, who, as executive manager has conducted the plant and its business for so many years, has organized. The Peerless Company has always been a very part of the bone and sinew of Bay St. Louis and its success is to be desired.

—It might not be a very propitious time just now to agitate the subject, but come it must and sooner or later. We have reference to the subject of building a new central school building. The present one has not only become too small in its proportions to adequately carry out its purposes, but the building is becoming old and it time dangerous. It will not be long before it will be condemned. The building of two ward schools in addition to this one, has in a great measure, taken care of the overflow, but these as well carrying their burdens. It is well a crystallization of thought be in process regarding the building of a substantial, fire-proof and modern central school for Bay St. Louis, one of brick, two-story and basement, modern heating equipment that would reduce the fire hazard and in turn the insurance rates. As the building stands today it would be economy —This newspaper has ever stood for the doctrine, Buy at Home." It is sound in principle and practical in application, and we are further of the opinion that there is no better time to reiterate the slogan than just now on the eve of the holiday trading season. It is our merchants and business people who make the community. They are the very foundation of the city's prosperity; they are always first in every move for the uplift and building of the community, and they are ever willing their money to contribute to every cause that comes along. In turn, if not for the other fellow, but for one's self, to buy at home. Keep the money at home; patronize home and circulate the money. Prosperity generally follows.

YOUR CHRISTMAS SAVINGS FOR 1922.

Merchants Bank Now Ready to Open Savings Club for the Coming Year.—Has Had Club for Several Years.

On this page will be found the big advertisement of the Merchants Bank, which for the past several years has conducted the Christmas Savings Club with much success, and announcement is made in the advertisement that the Club for 1922 is now forming.

"Our Christmas Savings Club for 1921," said Cashier Rea, "has proven the most successful yet. We have had a larger number of members than ever, and the members each year seem to join a club larger than the kind in which they were participants the year previously. Some time next week we are going to begin mailing out the Christmas checks and it will amount to a run that will exceed all previous years. We will simply flood Bay St. Louis with thousands of dollars that have been in the accumulation the past twelve-month period. The merchants and all business channels will benefit largely thereby."

The Merchants Bank has had the savings club in vogue for quite a number of years. Possibly you, dear reader, have not joined. Read the advertisement and get busy. Watch the bank's advertising space in this paper each week. It will contain interesting and valuable information. It means money and contentment for you. There are many plans to choose from. Call and let the bank explain.

—Christmas shoppers will find an extensive variety of new and seasonable goods at the Bay Jewelry Store, G. E. Temple, proprietor. If it's a gift for that baby, the boy, the girl, the wife, mother, husband, sweetheart or friend, you will find it at Temple's. Advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue of The Echo.

—The Chamber of Commerce of Biloxi recently "got busy" and the result is that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company is going to concrete the depot platform and build an ornamental shed over same at a cost of $4,000. This will protect travelers from sun and rain. Other depots might get it for the asking. What has become of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce?

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT FOR HANCOCK COUNTY BANK.

Local Bank, Actuated By Its Enterprise and Spirit to Further Serve Public in Creating Christmas Savings Department.

As the reader must already have seen and possibly read, the advertisement of the Hancock County Bank, of Bay St. Louis, appears on the first page of this week's Echo, announcing the establishment of a Christmas Savings Department.

This move has been contemplated by the bank officials for some time, and after careful deliberation came to the conclusion that it would be best to put the Christmas Savings Plan into execution and particularly since there has been such a wide demand on the part of patrons.

This is in line with the policy of the Hancock County Bank, namely: To ever serve the public, and to give the maximum of service in every instance. It is a case of where the best is none too good.

Read the advertisement and study the plan. There are many clubs—one to fit every purse. Select which one will suit you best, and call at once at the bank and begin your Christmas savings.

The principle of saving is self-evident and cannot be over-estimated. The management of the bank in... you to call.

—G. E. Temple, proprietor of the Bay Jewelry Store, announces elsewhere in the columns of The Echo that he has leased half of the large building occupied by the Bay Drug Company, on Front, head of Main Street, and will occupy same January 1st. He recently leased the place from A. A. Kergosien, proprietor of the drug store, succeeding the Bay Drug Company, who recently acquired a long lease on the building from Mrs. E. G. Abrahams.
